16. Risk and Losses

- 16.1. The Client hereby agrees to undertake the risks pertaining to portfolio investments as stated herein:
- a) Securities investments are subject to market and other risks and there can be no guarantee against losses resulting from an investment nor is there any assurance that the Portfolio's objectives will be achieved.
 - b) The past performance of the Portfolio Manager does not indicate the future performance of similar or same Portfolio or any other future portfolio of the Portfolio Manager.
 - c) Risk arising from the investment objective, investment strategy and asset allocation are mentioned as follows:
 - The liquidity of the portfolio may be restricted by trading volumes and settlement periods. Different segments of the Nepalese financial markets have different settlement periods and such periods may be extended significantly by unforeseen circumstances. Delays or other problems in settlement of transactions could result in temporary periods when the assets of the portfolio are un-invested and no return is earned thereon. The inability of the Portfolio Manager to make intended securities purchases, due to settlement problems, could cause the Portfolio to miss certain investment opportunities. By the same token, the inability to sell securities held in the portfolio, due to the absence of a well-developed and liquid secondary market for debt securities, would result at times, in potential losses to the Portfolio, should there be a subsequent decline in the value of securities held in the portfolio.
 - The liquidity and valuation of the Portfolio's investments due to its holdings of unlisted securities may be affected if they have to be sold prior to their target date of divestment.
 - Corporate debt securities are subject to the risk of an issuer's inability to meet interest and principal payments on its debt obligations (credit risk). Debt securities may also be subject to price volatility due to factors such as changes in interest rates, general level of market liquidity and market perception of the creditworthiness of the issuer, among others (market risk). The Portfolio Manager will endeavor to manage credit risk through in-house credit analysis.
 - The value of the portfolio, to the extent invested in fixed income securities, will be affected by changes in the general level of interest rates. When interest rates decline, the value of a portfolio of fixed income securities can be expected to rise. Conversely, when interest rates rise, the value of a portfolio of fixed income securities can be expected to decline.
 - As with any investment in securities, the value of the portfolio can go up or down depending on various factors that may affect the values of the investments. In addition to the factors that affect the value of individual securities, the value of the portfolio can be expected to fluctuate with movements in the broader equity and bond markets and may be influenced by factors affecting capital markets in general, such as, but not limited to, changes in interest rates, currency exchange rates, changes in governmental policies, taxation, political, economic or other developments and increased volatility in the stock and bond markets.
 - Risk arising out of non-diversification: The investment objectives of one or more portfolio could result into concentration on a specific asset/asset class/sector/issuer etc., which could expose the portfolio to improper and/or undesired diversification.
 - In case the portfolio invests in mutual funds registered with SEBON, scheme specific risk factors of each such underlying scheme will be applicable to the Portfolio. All risks associated with such underlying schemes, including performance of their underlying schemes.

17. Joint Account

If the client is more than a single person, the Client's obligations under this agreement shall be joint or the person jointly authorized by the account holders. It is clarified in this case of the joint client account, all dealings with the client under this agreement, including but without limitation to the payment of Assets of the Account on termination or expiry of the agreement would be undertaken by the Portfolio Manager with the first holder of the account or the person jointly authorized by the account holders.
